WEDNESDAY MORNING, NOV. 6. sharp and crispy. The day was a answered to their names: Messrs. Holbesutiful one for out-door business, lilday, Howell, Jacob A. M., Jacob S. S., nd our streets presented a busy scene.

POLICE COURT. - Yesterday there was not a solitary case to be disposed of in the Police Court. While a full docket would have furnished us with material for a lengthy item, we are giad that this one can be made no longer by rea-son of the improving morals of our Miller and Marshall H. Ferguson, who had a "set-to," in which the latter came off victorious, 'Squire Shullz took the e in hand on Monday, and fined Ferguson $5 and costs. He was also required to give bond that he would be of good behavior" for three months.

In our item yesterday morning about an alarm of fire at the Grant House, we stated that the flames were discovered cook room. We gave the report were informed yesterday by one of the proprietors that the slarm and excitement were caused by the burning out of one of the chimnies, and that at no time n Monday was the building on fire. We cheerfully make the correction.

New Hall.—We were told yesterday that Col. List intends to finish the third story of his new building just opposite the INTELLIGENCER office, and devote it to public hall purposes. If this information is correct, it will certainly be the largest Hall in the city, and will be admirably adapted for accommodating Fairs and entertain-ments of a kindred character—thus supplying a want that has long been felt and acknowledged in our city.

RE-OPENED .- The Home Insurance Company of Columbus, Ohio, deposited yesterday with the Treasurer of the State, twenty-five thousand dollars in compliance with the law enacted last winter by our legislature in regard to foreign insurance companies doing business in West Virginia. The Home is the second company that has met the requirements of the Act, and is, therefore, prepared again to take risks on property in our State. The deposit was in 10-40 U. S. Bonds.

BEATEN.-John Norman, who resides in the country and had visited the city on Monday, while riding along the road near Fulton in the evening, on his return home, was attacked, dragged from his horse and severely beaten. He also asserts that he was robbed of some $40. Mr. Norman was in town yesterday and his face and head looked s if they had passed through a rough "milling" process. Efforts will be made to bring the assailants to justice.

SUPPER AND CONCERT,—The teachers and scholars of St. Matthew's Sunday school propose to give a grand prome-nade concert and oyster suppor at Washington Hall, on Tuesday evening, November 12th. The object is to raise sufficient funds to complete the base-ment of the new church immediately, as their quarters at the court house are both inconvenient and unpleasant. The committee have secured the best musical talent our city affords, and it ises to be a grand affair.

FUNERAL,- Yesterday morning, o'clock, the funeral of George W. Sights, Esq., took place from his late residence on Market street. A large procession of relatives and friends, together with delegations of his Masonie Brethren from Lodges Nos. 1 and 5, and from the Bates and Nelson Lodges, folowed his remains to the cemetery on John street, East Wheeling. Mr. Sights was a distinguished member of the Order in our State, and was respected highly both by the fraternity and by all last, the Republicans of Wellsburg and Brooke county concluded that they had as much cause as anybody to re-joice, particularly over the result of the election in the entire State. To as-sist them in their merry-making, they brought a cannon from Steubenville and during Friday night, Saturday and Saturday night, they had a jolly, good time of it. It occurs to us if the same amount of energy had been put forth before the election, the returns from Brooke would have showed a different state of things. profit by their defeat at the polls on selves triumphantly.

ATTEMPTED SUICIDE.—John Steiger resides in North Wheeling, and we are told his domestic troubles have been many and hard to bear. The latter con-clusion he seems to have reached yesterday alternoon about one o'clock, nd the further one to drown them all intelligence: by drowning himself. To carry out his determination, he rushed down to the J. N. McCullough, passed down yesterriver and plunged into it just below the Water Works. Officer Myers wit-nessed the performance, promptly res-commander George C. Moore, late of cued the footish man, and marched the steamer Bayard. The office is un him to the lock up. When brought der the charge of that efficient and gen-there he was a miserable looking creature half drowned and half frozen, will see to the wants of all who may without shoes, coat or hat. The officers made him as comportable as the conveniences of the lock-up afforded.—

Muss .- There was considerable loud talking and some very bad blood stirred up, last night, in front of a saloon near the corner of Monroe and Market streets. We visited the scene of disorder and tumult at a late hour, and the storm had not yet fully sub sided. Fearing there might be a free fight at no very distant period, and that we might be called on to strike a blow in defence of somebody else's ladded in defence of somebody else's individ-ual rights, we incontinently left that locality, being non-combatants on such casions, decidedly.
